THE END OF THE WORLD -A remarkable religious convention recently held at Bluffton, Onio, gathered together delegates representing Sanctification, Faith Cure, Second Adventists and others of like character. The object of the convention was the union of all those who believe in Christ as a Saviour, as a sanctifier, as a healer, and in His second personal coming. These in the movement claim for the organization that it is in no sense an ecclesiastical body, or in any marner antagonistic to the church, but a frater nal confederation of believers in what they call the Four fold Gospel. They claim salvation through Christ fo. all who fully yield themselves to Him; Divine healing through the name of Jesus for those who believe, and only Him, and Christ's personal premitten. only Him, and Christ's personal premilen-nial coming, and are providing this conven-tion to afford a bond of union and fellow-ship for all who hold this common faith and life. The speakers of the convention pro-fessed to see in the signs of the times, as exhibited by the remarkable winter, the dreadful disasters by land and sea, the fearful ca lamities of the past twelve months and other events of a like character, that the end of all things earthly was at hand, probably this year. That Christ would come was a common conclusion.

HE'D SCOOP A LITTLE .- About the time that Daniel Drew began his Wall street carear he was up in the country one day to visit some friends, and two farmers called upon him to decide a case. One had sold the other five bushels of wheat, and propos ed to measure it in a half bushel, and sweep the top of a measure with a stick. The other objected, and Uncle Daniel was asked o decide.

"Well, legally speaking, a bushel is only bushel," he answered. "And can the measure be swept off?"

"I think it can."
"What with ?"

"Well, if I was selling wheat I should probably use half the head of a flour barrel."

"Which edge of it?"
"Gentlemen, that is a point I cannot now decide on," sighed the old man. "If I was selling to a widow or a preacher I am certain I should sweep the measure with a straight edge, but if I was selling to a man who pastures his cows in the road and his pigs in his neighbor's corn, I'm afraid I should use the circular side, and scoop a little to boot."-Wall Street News

REMARKABLE SURGERY. - Two subjects at Bellevue Hospital, New York, of rare surgical operations are reported recovering in specially good style. The carving was done one day last week. The first operation was that of "litholomy." A few days ago three year-old Louis Bauman, of No. 17 Corystie street, was taken to the hospital suffering from an affection of the bladder. The child is a handsome lad, with light, curly hair. The physicians performed the operation and extracted a rough stone about as large as a walnut. The child is now better. The sec ond operation was performed on Moke Choir Kron, forty years of age, a Chinese cook, living at No. 332 Water street. The China-man was stricken with la grippe, and on the 22th of December was removed to Bellevue Hospital. The treatment of the doctors did not appear to do him any good, and finally his ribs became affected and the operation of "eslandes" was performed. When the Chinaman revived five of his ribs were gone. He is doing well under the circumstances.

Some men are disastrously superstitious. A Burlington swain came to the determination to propose a certain evening. Entering the parlor in considerable trepidation, he picked up a book and glanced at the title page. It was a copy of "Don't." He didn't, and on the very next afternoon his girl consented to be Mrs. Somebody Else.
